HOW GOVERNMENT
DOES BUILDINGMODUS OPERANDI OF ERECTING POSTOFFICES.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT "IT"

Postoffice Heads Are Not Consulted Either as to Sites or Plans of Structures.

(By William Wolff Smith.)

Washington, D. C., July 14.—Special

Correspondence.—Now that the public buildings bill has been passed which provided for the construction or enlargement of several hundred public buildings, and the acquisition of many sites, the office of the Superintending Architect of the Treasury will be a busy place for some time to come. It would seem that in the case where the building is to provide merely for a postoffice, the wishes of the postoffice department would prevail but this is not the case. While occasionally the officials of the postoffice department are called into consultation, as a general proposition, the treasury department purchases the site, draws the plans and erects the building and then lets the postoffice department adapt itself to the building as best it may. Sometimes this leads to strange complications and causes the postoffice officials much annoyance.

As such a large number of sites are to take a glance at the modus operandi of acquiring them: When the treasury department is ready to take up the question of a site, where the purchase has been authorized, the supervising architect will notify the secretary of the treasury who will cause to be inserted in the various newspapers published in the city selected an advertisement which will announce that proposals will be received for the sale to the United States of a suitable site, centrally and conveniently located, for the federal building to be located in the said town. The advertisement will note that the department prefers a corner lot, giving the dimensions as decided upon by the department. It is required that each proposal shall be accompanied by a diagram of the land, showing the widths of adjacent streets and alleys, the grades and character of the foundations obtainable, etc.

Any improvements on the land must be removed by the vendor within thirty days after written notice, and the vendor shall pay all expenses connected with furnishing evidence of title and deeds of conveyance.

These proposals are received sealed and the law is very severe in punishing anyone who opens such proposals until the hour appointed when they are opened in the office of the superintending architect in the presence of a duly appointed committee. The proposals must be marked "Proposals for federal building site at Blank-ville" and addressed to the secretary of the treasury, supervising architect's office, Washington, D. C. Many considerations enter into the question of selecting a site. Of primary importance is the location. The postoffice department prefers sites near the depot in large cities and near the center of business in the smaller ones. Corner lots are preferred as the law stipulates that there must be a clear space around all federal buildings of at least forty feet, including streets and alleys. The secretary of the treasury, however, is permitted in his discretion to waive this requirement when satisfied that it will not interfere with ample fire protection.

While the matter of cost is not a predominating factor in that it is by no means the lowest bidder that carries off the plum, the treasury is not disposed to be gouged, and insists that the lots offered shall be at a price which is fair in connection with the price of surrounding property, location, character of foundations, etc.,

all considered. To prevent combination of any other effort to hold up the government, the treasury reserves the right to reject any or all proposals. Sometimes it happens that a practical site cannot be purchased under the first proposals received, when other proposals are asked for. In all cases the purchase price of the site must be within the limit of the appropriation when specifically made for the acquiring of a site. When a bulk appropriation is made for a site and building the treasury department is expected to set aside enough of this appropriation to secure the construccity and should have been located on the site of the old postoffice on the lake front, considered by the department as ideal. Much criticism is also expressed of the arrangements of this building. The first mailing case is a quarter of a mile from the last mailing case and the various divisions are scattered over various floors. This requires much cumbersome and noisy machinery to carry the sacks of mail from one division to another. From the postoffice standpoint a large one story building with plenty of light is the ideal type. They think that if they were called in at the beginning instead of the end of the deal many mistakes would be avoided. The public buildings bill recently passed has a section providing that in the selection and purchase of sites for proposed government buildings the secretary of the treasury is required to take into consideration the present needs of the government and its future growth of the cities and it is provided that in no case shall the secretary acquire a site unless the dimensions thereof are of sufficient size for a building that will accommodate all the government offices now located, or likely to be located in the near future in the city.

For some time past the geological survey has been conducting a series of experiments on the Exposition Grounds at St. Louis with coals, lignites and other fuel substances, which have proven satisfactory to the engineers and others in charge. It has been stated that the people of this country spent about $450,000,000 for fuel during the last year, and the officials of the geological survey say that if the results of their investigations can save to the country even one per cent of this expenditure, the investment will certainly be a good one. This branch of the government has also been conducting experiments with structural materials entering in to the construction of public and other buildings. The money being spent by the government on its public buildings and its great engineering projects, such as the isthmian canal and through the different branches of the army and navy, will aggregate from forty to fifty million dollars. In addition the amount spent by different cities and states and by the people generally in engineering and constructing work during the past year has aggregated more than $1,000,000,000. "In all of this work," both by the government and by the people in all parts of the country," said Director Walcott of the geological survey, "building materials are being used that are but little understood and the general sentiment of the engineers bears out the statement that these materials are used wastefully and in many cases with great uncertainty. The German government has built large testing works, and is carrying on extensive investigations, and it seems to me to be an excellent use of money in getting practical results that will be of permanent service and value not only to the government but to the people of the country. There is a great necessity for the government to make these tests for the purpose of securing the best and most economical fuel and material in the work that it is doing. As a people we have a coal supply that nature has given us and if we can make that supply go two or three times as far as it normally would under existing conditions, the benefit will go to the nation, to the people as a whole and to the government. In the tests thus far carried on I think it has been demonstrated and accepted by engineers and experts that the energy of coal which can be obtained here is clearly shown to be two and one-half times what it was four years ago." Mr. Walcott was asked if this increased energy resulted from the utilization of more of the heat units than has been used before in consuming fuel, to which he replied: "It is in the making of gas and using it through the gas engines in the form of fuel instead of burning the coal under a boiler to produce steam. That is wherein the benefit comes. Our greatest work has been in showing how new processes could be made use of in burning our various coals and lignites for heat, power and light. This applies also to lignites and peats."

Speaking of the investigation being conducted with respect to building materials, Mr. Walcott said one of the questions they are endeavoring to solve is whether a strong, firm, concrete could be made by using different grades of material, for instance, one by using crushed limestone, as compared with crushed granite, which would make the strongest concrete. In various parts of the Mississippi valley, as near Cincinnati and other places, there are limestones covering a wide area. The survey officials have gone to the center where that limestone was being largely used, not testing limestone arbitrarily, but where it was more generally used and have tested it.

Prof. Holmes of the geological survey is of the opinion that cement and concrete will in the course of time supplant the use of iron and steel in the construction of the framework of buildings. During the next ten years the expenditures of the government for building and construction work will exceed $100,000,000, said Mr. Holmes. "During this period the amount expended by the people of the country will approximate $10,000,000,000. The purpose of the investigations will be to indicate how the structural materials can be used most efficiently and economically." During the past two years the geological survey has tested more than 85 different kinds of coals from seven states in the country, from which 1000 chemical analyses have been made. In those tests it has been found that in the mining of coal in the United States fully 50 per cent of the coal remains in the ground. It has also been found that from five to ten per cent is lost in handling and transportation.

Representative William Alden Smith is confident of being elected United States senator from Michigan in place of Senator Alger, who has announced his intention of retiring at the expiration of his present term. Mr. Smith says fourteen counties have already declared for him without solicitation on his part. He has two opponents for the seat, Mr. McMillan, son of the late Senator McMillan from Michigan, and Arthur Hill. "I shall return to Michigan immediately and get into the campaign," said Mr. Smith the other day, "and shall not leave until the contest is settled. I am grateful for the evidence of the support the people have so far given me, and believe that I shall be the next senator."

Representative McCleary of Minnesota, one of the republican stand-patters, says the issue in the coming congressional campaign will be the tariff on which issue his party will stand out. "Mr. McCleary has been in congress thirteen years and is now having a warm fight on his hands over the tariff, but he holds to the standard doctrine and is confident of success in November. He says the tariff is the only issue that the democrats can find and has no doubt they will make it their party cry during the coming campaign and in the presidential race in 1908. 'The tariff will stand as it is because it is not meant to build up the industries of one section but for all,' he said. 'It does not foster monopoly. My people want a reduction of the duty of $2 on lumber, but I ask them if they want the tariff on butter and other dairy products reduced, and they say no. I am for a national tariff policy which is for the nation and not for my district alone.'

Representative Charles A. Towne of New York says the democrats will contend for a revision of the tariff during the congressional campaign now on. Mr. Towne has had a varied career in politics. Born in Michigan in 1859, he graduated from the University of Michigan and was admitted to the bar in 1885. He took up his residence in Duluth, Minnesota, in 1890 and four years later was sent to congress by the republicans, whom he deserted in 1896 on the silver question. At the next two congressional elections in 1896 and 1898, he was a candidate for congress on the democratic ticket, but was defeated. He was chairman of the silver national committee in 1897-1900 and declined the vice-presidential nomination at the hands of the populist and silver republican parties in 1900. When Senator Cushman K. Davis, the Paris peace commissioner, died in the winter of 1900, the governor appointed Mr. Towne as his successor. Mr. Towne served in the senate from December 5, 1890, to January 23, 1901, his successor being the present senator from Minnesota, Mr. Clapp. Mr. Towne then moved to New York and joined the Tammany democrats, who sent him to congress at the beginning of the present congress. Mr. Towne is a silver-tongued orator and has graced many political platforms and turned his audiences to high pitches of enthusiasm.

Edwin S. Cramp, head of the largest shipbuilding corporation in the United States, speaking of the prosperity of America, said that we are producing more than we can consume. "Our foreign trade is very small, however," he said. "We have been so busy with trade and reforms at home that we have forgotten the necessity of extending our foreign commerce. A depression would find us unable to consume our products. Germany and Great Britain have made use of their opportunity by paying attention to their merchant marine. We should subsidize American bottoms to the extent of two millions or more a year."

REV. M'KINNEY'S
SUNDAY SERMONTELLS OF THE GREAT POWER BEHIND MAN.

TEXT WAS FROM MATTHEW

Nations Have Erred and Been Punished—Empires Have Fallen

Through Neglect.

Rev. John McKinney, of Christ Episcopal church chose for his theme in his yesterday's sermon St. Matthew 28th verse and 14th chapter and he said in part: People of impulse and people of conservatism if they have one without the other are much to be pitied. The impulsive person is quick at thought, but slow in action, while the conservative person is just the opposite. Those who have an equal amount of each are surer of their mind and give the action a thought before accomplishing it. Peter was an ideal in this respect. He is often spoken of as the ideal christian man. Others speak of him as the pillar of the church. You often say you will go on a certain mission but you do not do it. There is nothing behind the emotional feeling you are determined only for the instant.

Duty Should Be Present
There should be something behind the emotion and that is duty. There are a class of people who think that the destiny of a country lies in the hands of its ruler. If the country's welfare turns out to be good then he is praised, but on the other hand if it is reversed he is blamed and slandered. They never stop to realize the power that lies behind the ruler and leads him to act as he does. Men who have armed the sail of a country and who have changed ruin to prosperity acknowledge duty as their guide. It is not the destruction of life and the clash of arms that changes the destiny of a country. As we look over the downfall of the world's great leaders and note the cause we see the invariable reason: The departing from their God. It was the cause of the destruction of Rome and all other once ruling powers. Caesar saw it and could not stop it. He knew what the strife would sooner or later lead to.

Substantial Things
There are substantial things behind emotional man that keeps him from destruction. In some cases it is law, in others fear of others, but in all cases it is God. Too much emotion causes downfall and anarchy. It is the emotional man that causes ruin and destruction. In the early days of a Christian man, the former laws were not changed by God as the people thought they would be, but He showed them how they would live by these laws and He interpreted and taught them. He showed men how it was possible to live with the Jews and not have trouble.

Made for Sabbath
Men were made for Sabbath, not Sabbath for men. Where do we find impulse to do a good thing? It is in the thoughts of God and the desire to live as He should wish. When you have an impulse to do a kindly act, do it. Do not say today that you will do it and tomorrow forget the determination. If you feel that you ought to help one that has injured you, do it. You should have a determination that should be lasting.

Do Not Forget Worship
Do not forget worship and neglect to do your duty. When you start out on an undertaking remember that there is always one at your side that is ready to reach out a helping hand. He will lead you out of the darkness into light.

In writing advertisements if you cannot do better than well, try to do almost as well as better!

Hot days are no bar to the energies a man can give to golf and back at his work.

Where is that Harmony League proposed by a prominent attorney just before the spring election.

There is a lively bunch looking for the sheriff's office this year. Some of them are bound to be left.

There is still time for candidates to come out for county offices. The field is not yet near covered.

There is no organization in the world like the Christian Science church. Their press agent must be an overworked man these hot days.

The Milwaukee Journal objects to the Gazette's editorials. Thanks to the Journal for the compliment in noticing what the Gazette publishes.

The Beloit postoffice fight is still open although almost every other district has its full quota of officers just now.

State politics are nearing the fever heat and we may expect the blowing off of the safety valve at any minute and more disclosures.

It must be galling to the republicans of Delavan to have a democratic postmaster hand them out their mail when the district is supposed to have a republican congressman.

District Attorney Jerome seeks Joe Leiter to learn what he knows about the White murder and Joe Leiter says he does not even know the Thaws.

Cooper and his campaign of books and wall maps sent at the expense of the taxpayer but showing the government frank is flooding the entire district. If you did not get one of these costly presents write the congressman for one.

Thus far there has been no opposition to the return of Assemblyman Pliny Norcross to the legislature. There is time however for some candidate to spring up but no need for any anxiety that the last minute man will stand any chance of winning.

In selecting V. P. Richardson to handle the Lenroot campaign in Janesville and Rock county the Lenroot people overlooked lots of other hard workers who will doubtless feel hurt. Such is politics. The harder you work the quicker you are forgotten by the powerful.

BRITISH AUSTRALASIA

Figures showing the trade between the United States and British Australasia, which name includes Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand and the Fiji Islands, illustrates that American commerce is invading the farthest corners of the earth. Australia with a territory embracing three million square miles or but a little less than the United States and a population of five million takes considerable of our finished products and at the same time furnishes us with a large proportion of certain imports.

The imports into the United States from the Australian Commonwealth are chiefly raw wool, coal, gums, unmanufactured fibres, hides and skins, furs and fur skins, sausage, castings, and block tin; these eight articles supplying fully 90 per cent of our total imports from Australasia. Imports of raw wool show an especially large increase during the past decade, their total for 1905 having been $6,618,369, against $2,517,210 in 1904 and $1,846,334 in 1905. Most of this wool is of the class designated as "clothing" coming wool appearing in the imports only at long intervals and in negligible quantities, while practically no carpet wool is ever imported from the Australian colonies.

Trade between the United States and British Australasia in the fiscal year 1905 aggregated $3 million dollars, against $4½ millions in the preceding year, $2 million in 1904, and $1½ million in 1903. Statistics compiled by the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics have grown from a 2.3 million dollars in 1895 to 12 millions in 1905, and exports thereon in the same period from 9 millions to 26 millions. For nine months of the present fiscal year the exports are about 2 millions in excess of the same months of last year.

The northern portion lies within the Tropics, the southern and more populous section, representing about three-fifths of the total area, is in the South Temperate Zone, with population, customs, and institutions, and therefore social requirements not dissimilar to those of the United States. Agriculture and stock raising are the most important industries, though the mining of gold and copper has assumed considerable proportions. The value of the principal crops aggregated in 1900 about 125 million dollars, wheat being credited with 31 millions, hay 30 millions, oats 10 millions, orchard and garden products 10 millions, potatoes 6 millions, and corn nearly 6 millions of dollars. Wheat, wool, and meats are the chief productions. While certain sections of Australia do not produce wheat, the production of other sections and of New Zealand is sufficient to supply all domestic demands and leave a considerable surplus for exportation. Australasia is the largest wool producer of the world, her production in 1900, according to the reports of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, being 510 million pounds, against 370 millions for Argentina, 361 millions for Russia, 230 millions for the United States, 140 millions for the United Kingdom, 104 millions for France, 103 millions for Spain, 100 millions for the British South African colonies, and 96 millions for Uruguay. The latest available statement of live stock in Australasia reports sheep, 94 millions; cattle, 11 millions; horses, 2 millions; and swine, 1 million. This brief analysis offers an explanation of the relatively small value of agricultural products exported to that section of the world and suggests that its importance to American producers rests largely for the present at least in its value as a market for manufactured products and as a source of supply for certain manufacturers' materials not produced in the United States in sufficient quantities to meet local requirements.

Exports from the United States to British Australasia include iron and steel manufactures, refined mineral oils, wood and its various manufactures, tobacco and manufactures thereof (chiefly plug), paper and paper manufactures, boots and shoes, upper leather, cotton manufactures, fruits and nuts, agricultural implements, fish, chemicals and drugs (patent and proprietary medicines forming a large share), cars and carriages, clocks and watches, rosin and turpentine, and many other articles of lesser values ranging as high as $100,000 each per annum. The statistics of our exports to Australasia and New Zealand disclose the preponderance of manufactures and the absence of agricultural products in any considerable quantities.

While the imports into British Australasia from the United States for 1904 are but about one-fifth as great as those from the United Kingdom, they are far greater than those of any other country, and in fact practically equal the combined imports into Australasia from all countries exclusive of the British Empire. The United States is credited with having supplied 22 millions of the direct imports into British Australasia, compared with 110 millions from the United Kingdom, 8 millions from India and Ceylon, 5 millions from all other British possessions, 13 millions from Germany, and 14 millions from all other foreign countries.

The only countries to which we exported a larger value of merchandise in 1905 than to Australasia are the United Kingdom, to which the total exports were $23 million dollars; Germany, 194 millions; Canada, 141 millions; France, 76 millions; Netherlands, 73 millions; China, 63½ millions; Japan, 51½ millions; Mexico, 45.2½ millions; Cuba, 38 millions; and Belgium, 38 millions of dollars. Our exportation of 26 million dollars' worth of merchandise to British Australasia was greater than that to Argentina, to which the total sales were 23½ millions; Spain, 17 millions; Russia (so far as ascertainable from the stated destination of outward manifests from the United States), 16.2½ millions; Denmark, 15 millions; British Africa, 15 millions; Sweden and Norway, 12 millions; the Central American Republics, 14 millions; Austria-Hungary, 12 millions; Brazil, 11 millions; Austria-Hungary, 12 millions; Brazil, 11 millions; Hongkong, 11 millions; and the British West Indies, 10 millions of dollars.

PRESS COMMENT.

So Don't Knock. Exchange: A fool will find a flaw in the finest work of art.

"Jungle" Author Reckless. Milwaukee Sentinel: In tackling the servant girl problem Upton Sinclair shows that he is a young man of uncommon courage.

Wife-Away-Fun Theory Uptet. Toledo Blade: Nick Longworth would not have had half as good a time in Europe had he not taken his wife with him.

Short Pants for Whitelaw. Butte Inter Mountain: Court etiquette in London is giving the Hon. Whitelaw Reid fine opportunity to utilize his bicycle clothes of former days.

1200 Ball Games on Sunday. Superior Telegram: The Chicago Chronicle says that last Sunday there were 1200 ball games in progress in that city and that every one of them was witnessed by a crowd ranging from a few hundreds to several thousands of people.

New Name for Newspaper. Sheboygan Journal: A new daily paper, the Morning Majority, has been started in London. With such a name, it will be a miracle if it doesn't join the Silent Majority.

It's Only Fair. St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Admiral Rojstevsky will not be shot for the sea-of-Japan disaster. This decision is only fair for his defects are merely the average in the Russian naval system.

Also a Little Premature. Chicago Inter Ocean: Of course it has not occurred to anybody that we may some day own the British warship Dreadnaught, or, if it has, nobody has thought it in perfect good taste to mention it.

His Appeal From Senate. Milwaukee News: It seems that Senator La Follette has appealed from the senate to the Chautauqua, where the rules do not call for senatorial courtesy and a quorum always is present.

Calling a Noise a Noise. La Crosse Tribune: A musical event should be criticized as fearfully as a baseball game. Because ignorance has made it customary to call every noise "entraining" music, there is no reason why a ridiculous custom should be continued. We all must find our faults to correct them.

Will Wait For Ruin Photo. Chicago Inter Ocean: Since we cannot get hold of it now, let us wait patiently for a picture of the British warship Dreadnaught as she will appear in case it should ever be our misfortune to send one of our warships to reason with her.

No Great Concert at That. Milwaukee Sentinel: The Medical Times complains: "The public now think they know as much as the medical man." And at the rate medical men are contradicting each other the public are not concerned at that.

Political Day at Marinette. La Crosse Leader-Press: With Lenroot and Davidson, Kuessmann and Minor and a few other rival republicans grouped together at the Marinette Chautauqua there will be something doing for the one day at least.

Old and the Up-to-date. New York Commercial: Dowle, the up-to-date Elijah, has been blowing in $34,000 for personal expenses. Elijah I lived much more simply, especially during the raven period. How times have changed and the sucker crop developed.

Why Not John Dietz? Chicago Record-Herald: Turkey doesn't want the United States to have an ambassador at Constantinople. Why doesn't Uncle Sam end the matter by sending a deputy.

Ha, Villain, Ah! Milwaukee Free Press: Ah, ha, Tom Taggart, ah, you got your little red devil trade mark copyrighted, and then put it on your hotel stationery and on your spring water, and on your poker chips, and then pretended that you have nothing to do with the French Lick gambling house!

Dove With Pill In Its Bill. Superior Telegram: The Atlanta Georgian refers to Alice and Nicholas as "our young pair of national turtle doves." The description may fit Alice very nicely, but did the esteemed Georgian ever see a baldheaded turtle dove with a cigarette in its bill and a 8x8 smile on its face?

Snout and Ear Divergence. La Crosse Leader-Press: The vast difference between the president's estimate of the Chicago packing plants and the report of the "special investigating committee appointed by somebody expressly other than the packers" is due only to a difference of taste for snouts and ears.

Is Shocked Either Way. Evening Wisconsin: Four years ago the New York Evening Post was shocked at the announcement by W. R. Hearst that he was a candidate for the democratic nomination for the presidency. Now it is shocked at his announcement that he is not a candidate. Saffron Willy may as well give up trying to please the Post.

Putting Wheeler Right. Rockford Register-Gazette: Prof. Wheeler of Yale is certain that the Monroe doctrine is an expression of greed. If we only seek to safeguard the territory of the weak and helpless and not to grab territory for ourselves that is another thing. When we freed Cuba and set her up as an independent government, the act was not an outgrowth of greed, although our course was in pursuance of the Monroe doctrine.

Before Leaping, Look! Hurley Miner: Do not sign a nomination paper for a candidate for office and think that is the end of it. When you sign such a paper you pledge yourself to support the candidate whose paper you sign. If you don't, you are a liar.

Crawled Out From Under Lid. Chicago News: With a glass of beer in one hand and a look of defiance in the other St. Louis crawled out from under its lid Sunday and told Governor Folk to do his worst. Evidently it thought his worst could not be as bad as passing a hot Sunday in a dry town.

New Name for Hammond. Also indicates that St. Louis was not the only suburb of Chicago that was determined to do as they do in the big city. It is evident that the wet Sunday will not go for polite asking even in Missouri, where the people make a point of being polite. Just why it is so science cannot explain, but the thirsty population does not look on the pop when it is red with any degree of satisfaction on a hot day. The police have noticed this before.

Danced Thirteen Straight Hours. New York Tribune: Thirteen hours is now the record for waltzing in France, and belongs to an Italian.

Ten competitors, including several energetic children, started dancing in Paris recently at 1 a. m. At 5 the last child had dropped down from exhaustion and was put none too soon to bed. At noon, of two competitors remaining, one gave up and then there was one. He waltzed on for two hours longer, but his legs sank beneath him—and there were none. He had danced six women nearly to death during his performance.

Nobody's Business But His Own. Boston Herald: Former Secretary Gage's pointed statement regarding his presence at the Theosophical institution in California is clearly within his rights and should set at rest the public's curiosity. Being over 70 years of age and out of public service, his request to be left to "mind his own business" should be granted.

The Ade Extravaganza. Marinette Eagle-Star: Even George Ade, the clever writer of good stories and bright musical comedies, has troubles of his own; in spite of the money his writings have brought him. He is a young man of nice manners and the correspondents have been trying to marry him off without consulting him much about the lady. Miss Taggart, the daughter of the somewhat famous democratic chairman, was announced as his bride-to-be, but the fact is denied by both Mr. Ade and the young lady's friends. Mr. Ade should have the subject for a new extravaganza in this matter and it might be more amusing than some of his more recent attempts at funny writing.

Dam Your Pores. Milwaukee Journal: There is nothing very brilliant to be said about the heat at best. And almost invariably, those who persistently talk about its being hot never have anything brilliant to say about anything.

Everybody else knows that it's hot, and realizes just how hot, quite as well as you do.

The other fellow is doing his best to forget it's hot. Don't pour a boiling reminder upon him. There is no information, no pleasant, no good fellowship—nothing under the scorching sun but rank idiosyncrasy in the worse than parrotlike remark that it's hot. What's the use?

What matter if you are perspiring at every pore? Who cares about your pores when everybody else has flooded pores of his own. Dam your pores—if you can; anyway, don't talk about them to any of the countless millions weltering under the heat and other troubles of their own.

Retired Owing to Ill Health—The Move Is Regretted by Directors.

At a meeting of the directors of the Janesville Machine company held at their office this afternoon, Mr. Hiram Merrill resigned as vice president of the company, which resignation the directors very reluctantly accepted. Mr. Merrill insisted, however, that his health would not permit him to continue. The annual meeting of the company is held tomorrow.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Insects Making Things Lively: According to rumors received here the choir boys of Trinity church, who have been camping at Colladay Point, on the edge of the marshes of Lake Kegonsa, since last Tuesday, have found reason to repeat giving up the old ground on the banks of the Rock. The mosquitoes have already driven one or two of them home and the balance, it is reported, are trying to have a good time with their hands buried in stockings and their heads dove up in bandages.

Picnic on Wednesday: The Christ Episcopal Sunday school will enjoy its annual picnic at Ho-No-Nee-Gah park on Wednesday.

Judgments in Default: Justice Earle holding court today for Justice Reeder who is ill, handed down judgments in default for $191.31 and costs and $42.30 and costs in the two actions of the Rock County National bank vs. John Richardson.

KNIGHTAGE IN CHICAGO

Western Metropolis to Be the City of Chivalry.

SCHEME OF A SOCIETY WOMAN.

According to Mrs. Isabel Garrison, Leader of the Movement, Boys Are to Be Drilled to Be Bold and Chivalrous and Good When They Grow Up and Fight for the Right.

Cervantes must have turned over in his grave the other day. Three hundred years he has been in peace, and during those years the adventures of the Don Quixote whom he made to live upon the printed page have driven from England and from France, from Italy and from his own Spain the feudal practices which he was the first to ridicule.

It has remained for Chicago to do the unexpected, says the Chicago Post. And Chicago has done it. Chivalry is to be the order of the day. Knights errant are to walk down State street and on Jackson boulevard; ladies fair are to reward with ribbons and with smiles the deeds of greatness done by their favored champions. Chicago is to be the city of chivalry.

All these surprising things which are to happen to Chicago were made known at a luncheon given at noon as a farewell to Mrs. Isabel Garrison, who is to spend the summer in Europe. Mrs. Garrison is the leader in the movement for bringing the days of chivalry into the prosaic present. Eleven friends gathered with her at a table to typify the twelve knights who first while sat at the round table of King Arthur and recounted the deeds of valor they had done.

When the coffee and the cheese had been placed upon the table Mrs. Garrison outlined her plans for the ennobling of the youth of the land and the beautifying of the city.

Orders of knights errant are to be organized among the boys of the grammar schools of Chicago. Each chapter is to be presided over by his majesty King Arthur and shall be named for one of the Arthurian knights, with the exception of the chapter royal, which shall be called Chevalier de la Salle.

Each boy who would be a knight-errant must take the following oath: "Herby I solemnly do promise service, loyalty and declare my allegiance to Chicago, my city chivalrous, to be her faithful knight henceforth."

Truth, gentleness, kindness to animals as well as to humankind, faithfulness and industry—these are the knightly qualities which the members of the order will be expected to exemplify.

The shield for the chapters will bear three Cs, for "Chicago, City Chivalrous," and the shield for the chapter royal, shall be the Arthurian shield upon an American eagle, with the words from Tennyson, "And Arthur shall come again."

Mrs. Garrison offers a prize of $25 to the boy who shall do the most for the furthering of the orders, and while in Europe she will secure a full suit of armor which shall be worn by the King Arthur of the Chevalier de la Salle.

We hope to make Chicago a safer place to live by teaching the citizens of tomorrow the lessons of uprightness and honesty," said Mrs. Garrison recently. "The stories of the knights will take the places of the vicious dime novels, and the use of the chivalric symbols will appeal to the dramatic instinct in the boys. We do not intend to take the matter up with the board of education, but hope to have the help of teachers in forming our orders."

MRS. LONGWORTH'S PET.

A Cat Rescued From London Gains by the President's Daughter.

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, the president's daughter, has picked up a mascot, says a London cable dispatch to the Kansas City Times.

Soon after her arrival in London she started from Dorchester House one morning to do some shopping. As she drove down Park lane she saw two small boys with a black cat, which they were apparently trying to strangle with a piece of string. She immediately ordered the carriage stopped and jumped out.

"What are you two young lumps doing?" she asked.

"Please, miss, we think it's mad," said the elder, "and we are going to choke him, so as nobody can't catch him from him."

"If you don't give the pussy to me at once," said Mrs. Longworth, "I'll see that a policeman catches you."

The gamins immediately handed over the kitten and fled headlong.

Mrs. Longworth, before resuming her shopping tour, drove back with the cat to Dorchester House. She has christened it "John Bull" and has announced her intention of taking it with her to America as a mascot. John Bull is already devoted to his rescuer and is introduced to all the aristocratic visitors to Dorchester House.

During the recent royal procession in Yokohama, Japan, marked contrast to the seas of heads that we are accustomed to see in the upper stories of the houses in England on similar occasions, nothing but blank windows were to be seen, says the North China Herald, due to the fact that in Japan nobody is allowed to look down upon the emperor.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

The Wolves and the Cougar

Once there were two wolves who had a chicken tree, in which fowls were very fond of roosting.

One day when they went down to the chicken tree to get each of them a bird they heard a snarl and a sound and found feathers all around the tree, while every bird for a mile around was either eaten or scared away.

"Who has been robbing our chicken tree?" cried the wolf brothers together.

"Your chicken tree? Your chicken tree? Your chicken tree?" snarled the cougar, who lay, gorged full, at the bottom of the tree. "Who gave you this chicken tree? Who gave you anything? Who are you, anyhow?"

The wolf brothers made haste to say that nobody had given them the chicken tree, that nobody had given them anything and that they weren't anybody and didn't count anyhow, but their hearts were hot and sore while they said it.

As they were scuttling away they met Bruin, the bear. And when he heard their story he told them of a trap which the hunters had set for the cougars down by the brookside.

"Lead him there," said Bruin, "and you may have your revenge, also you may have as many chicken trees as you can find."

So the wolves went trembling back and told the cougar that they had found a much finer chicken tree for him. When they came to the spot where Bruin had told them the trap was they stepped aside and said they could not walk ahead of so great a person that he must lead the way and let them follow.

Snop went the trap, on the old cougar's foot.

"There," said the eldest wolf brother, "that will teach you not to insult people after you have robbed them."

WHAT MADE THE DIFFERENCE

The Bengal tiger and the clown in the show had a lively dispute one day as to which of the two was superior. "Pooh!" said the tiger. "There is not the slightest doubt about it. Look at my great strength. Why, with one blow from my paw I could crush out your puny life. You poor little weakling, I pity you. Your voice is weak, your arms are weak. What chance would you have in a contest with me? You wouldn't hold out for a moment."

"Very well said," replied the clown, "but I carry something in my little think box that can match all your brute strength."

"What do you mean?" growled the tiger.

"I mean," said the clown dryly, "that if you had what I've got and you lack it."

The clown immediately handed over the kitten and fled headlong.

Mrs. Longworth, before resuming her shopping tour, drove back with the cat to Dorchester House. She has christened it "John Bull" and has announced her intention of taking it with her to America as a mascot. John Bull is already devoted to his rescuer and is introduced to all the aristocratic visitors to Dorchester House.

This Proposition Is Now Up

Can we longer afford to overlook the fact that we can secure the very best of dental service at about half the rates we have been paying? Dr. Richards of Janesville, the independent dentist, says he would be delighted to have his work (put out at a modest price) compared with work done by others at possibly double his prices. He affirms that the comparison will establish the fact that his work is good in every respect. His work is lasting.

His work is done thoroughly. His work is substantial, and, in fact, not excelled by that of any other local dentist.

In addition to the reasonableness of his prices he gives close attention to painless work. Now see what you get by having him do your dental work.

MAROONS BEATEN BY THE EAGLES

JANESVILLE TEAM TAKES ANOTHER GAME VERY HANDILY.

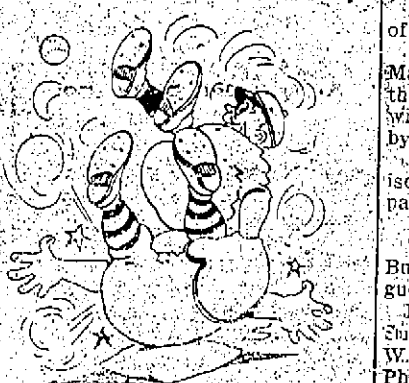

RED SOX LOSERS TWICE

Defeated at Madison Yesterday and at Footville Saturday—Many Other Games.

Still, another scalp was placed in the belt of the Janesville Eagles when yesterday afternoon at Eagle Park they defeated the valiant Clinton Maroons. The victory was taken handily by a score of 6 and 3. The game was fast, time being an hour and twenty-five minutes, while there were some phenomenal plays and the customary number of humorous incidents. Ward, Riley and Hutchinson played the stellar game for Janesville and "Shady" Fields shone for the visitors. He was at bat four times and only prevented from making four hits by the breaking of his stick. Catcher Loomis had the goods behind the bat but was unfortunate in attempting to glue three buzzing fowls and in a throw to second base.

Massey "Hits" First Ball. The game opened with the Maroons in. Massey, first up, caught the first ball pitched for a pretty hit, but Johnson and Blodgett failed to reach first and he was caught, endeavoring to steal second. The home team made one run in the first inning. Connors opened the contest with a flyout, but Riley went down on the second base man's error. Ward singled, Wendt was hit and the bases were filled. Then Dunwiddle negotiated a hit and Riley slid in for a score. Hutchinson fanned and Dee popped out, leaving three men on the bags. Then the visitors scored. Hastings struck out, but Fields, Loomis and Miller all secured hits, sending Fields home for a run. Loomis was caught at the plate and Woodward never went to first. Hall, who had just been released by the Red Sox management, was in the right garden for the Eagles. In the second inning he was hit at bat, but was prevented from hitting. Jones then singled and Connors followed with a double-bag swat. It was of no avail, however, for Riley fanned and Ward was put out on a short grounder. In the third inning the Maroons retired in one-two-three order, not one getting to the initial base, while the Eagles performed similarly. Wendt, Dunwiddle and Hutchinson flying out in rapid succession.

Maroons Once in Lead. At the opening of the next inning Ward made the most brilliant play of the season. Blodgett, first up, for the Clinton team, hammered a swift bouncer toward right field. Ward handled it beautifully and running for the base slid on just ahead of the runner. It was a clever putout with himself as assistant. Three more men batted, but no runs were made. The home team then secured another run. Dee went two bases on an over-throw from Massey. He stole third as Hall was flying out and came home as Jones sent out a small one. It was not handled quickly enough and both Dee and Jones reached their bases in safety. Jones, however, was caught sleeping at first and Connors failed to hit. The score was then 2 and 1, but the course of the story was changed as the Maroons made two runs in the next inning. After Miller was put out Woodward singled and Dee doubled. A nice clean hit from Massey brought both home. Then Johnson flew out and Blodgett was shut off at first. The Eagles again took the lead shortly making three runs. A phony rout of Riley by Loomis and Dee failed to get the sanction of the umpire and after two strikes the batter singled. Ward struck out, but Wendt reached first on an error and Dunwiddle hit. Riley had reached home safely and a two-bagger from Hutchinson sent Wendt and Dunwiddle in. Dee and Hall were then both put out.

Ball Handled Cleverly. But one more score was made during the remainder of the game and that was by the Eagles. However, pretty diamond work made the game interesting. In the seventh inning Loomis and Johnson appeared in the roles of Alphonse and Gaston when Dunwiddle popped a high foul between them. Both would save the day, but desired the other to have the honor. Finally Loomis made a feeble grab and was credited with an error. In the eighth Ward shone again. He made another beautiful stop and put out and assisted by Connors caught Hastings between first and second. In the same inning, but during the latter half, Riley was the batting star. He with a double-bagger sent Hall in for

DEMONSTRATION OF THE OLD, OLD MAXIM

That Advertising Pays Is Shown by the Lowell Store Ads on Friday Last.

That it pays to use advertising space commensurate with the size of the business desired is demonstrated fully in the big red tag sale which opened at the Lowell Department store Saturday morning. Manager B. M. Brown of the Lowell Co. used a four-page display in Friday evening's issue of the Gazette, the largest single newspaper advertisement ever inserted by a Janesville business house in a Janesville paper and the large advertisement to be run in color. Within ten minutes after the store opened Saturday morning there were forty-seven bargain-hunters looking over the offerings and from that time on the store was jammed with people with the exception of about one hour in the afternoon. The evening trade was especially heavy and the sales in the dry goods, clothing, shoe and hardware departments show a big increase over last year's similar sale. In the dry goods and clothing department seven clerks are regularly employed, but Saturday forty salesmen were employed and even this number was kept extremely busy. A total of 2763 sales were made during the day. Much credit is due Manager Brown for his work in arranging for the big event. He is a believer in printers' ink and understands that people love bargains. He does not go about a sale in a half-hearted way and the splendid result achieved from the initial day of the "red tag sale" should be gratifying to both himself and the Lowell Co.

HAY'S ULTIMATUM AS SENT TO BOWEN

CONTAIN THREAT OF WAR WITH CASTRO GOVERNMENT.

DEMAND FOR ARBITRATION

It Venezuela Declines to Consent to Submit Matter to Impartial-Umpire United States Must Take Drastic Action.

Washington, July 16.—In view of the determination of the state department to renew its demands upon the Venezuelan government for the settlement of American claims against Venezuela, it is a matter of interest to note the precise nature of those troublesome issues upon which negotiations were suspended in March, 1935. For the first time the Red book discloses in terms the ultimatum laid down by the late secretary of state, John Hay, in an instruction to Mr. Bowen, dated March 10, of that year.

Story Told in Red Book.

"The attitude of the Venezuelan government toward the government of the United States and toward the interests of its citizens who have suffered so grave and frequent wrongs arbitrarily committed by the government of Venezuela require that justice should now be fully done, once for all."

"The government of Venezuela finally declines to consent to an impartial arbitration, insuring the rendition of complete justice to these injured parties, the government of the United States may be regretfully compelled to take such measures as it may find necessary to effect complete redress without resort to arbitration."

Threat of War.

"The government of the United States stands committed to the principle of impartial arbitration, which can do justice to nobody, and if its moderate request is peremptorily refused it will be at liberty to consider, if it is compelled to resort to more vigorous measures, whether those measures shall include complete indemnification, not only for the citizens aggrieved but for any expenses of the government of the United States which may attend their execution."

Basis of Defiant Attitude.

The Venezuelan answer, rendered March 23, amounted to a rejection of the ultimatum, for it denied that Venezuela had any questions pending with the United States, and propounded the following interrogatory:

"Before giving further consideration to Mr. Hay's note the Venezuelan government states that it must know whether the United States respects the methods and nobility of the Venezuelan."

Mr. Bowen adds that the answer to unyielding and requires no further ultimatum.

Perhaps the explanation for the rather defiant attitude which the Venezuelan government occupies to this day, so far as the official correspondence shows, is to be found in a paraphrase of a telegram from Minister Bowen to the secretary of state reporting that Senor Josue Paul, President Castro's private representative, who was then in Washington, actively cultivating public sentiment in this country adverse to the asphalt claims, had called directly to President Castro that the United States government would not answer Mr. Bowen, or if it did, would give him conciliatory instructions.

Alterations in Mechanism With Object of Safeguarding Crews from Explosion During Gun Fire.

Provincetown, Mass., July 16.—The battleships Illinois and Missouri arrived here Sunday from Boston, where they have been undergoing repairs at the Charlestown navy yard for several weeks.

NEED BUILDERS IN FRISCO

HOUSESMITHS IN DEMAND IN COAST METROPOLIS.

City Is Making Surprising Strides Toward Rehabilitation, New Structures Going Up on All Sides.

San Francisco, July 16.—San Francisco is arising from its ashes with a rapidity that surprises all, and building is progressing on all sides.

The labor situation is exciting much interest and inquiry, and the California promotion committee, after careful investigation and conferences with employers and employees through the Building Trades Council, with which all building trades artisans are affiliated, and the Builders' Exchange and Builders' association, representing the employers, contractors and material men, has ascertained that in all trades except the building trades the demand is fully supplied, with one exception—ordinary laborers—several thousand such men being in immediate demand for railway construction and debris removal.

In the building trades conditions are entirely different. Mechanics are needed in all departments of the building industry, principally in the following trades:

Plumbers, electrical workers, gas and electric fixture hangers, hod carriers, bricklayers, cement workers, bridge and structural iron workers, architectural iron workers, plasterers, lathers, carpenters, sheet metal workers and elevator constructors.

COCKRAN TALKS POLITICS

Finance of Miss Ide Thinks Roosevelt Only Choice of Republicans for the Presidency.

Santa Barbara, Cal., July 16.—W. Bourke Cockran, of New York, Democratic congressman and orator, who left here Saturday for Lake Tahoe, with Miss Anne Ide, his fiancée and a party of friends, discussed just before his departure the political situation. In his estimation Mr. Roosevelt is the only choice for the Republican party to consider, and he believes the president will be forced to accept the nomination. Likewise, he thinks that Mr. Bryan is at this time the unanimous choice of the Democratic party for presidential candidacy, but he deems political prophecy to be idle; he would not be surprised to see some vigorous Democrat step from the New York governorship to the White House.

OPENS MARKET TO AMERICA

French Government Reduces Tariff on Codfish in Order to Reduce Prices on Island of Guadeloupe.

Washington, July 16.—The bureau of manufactures has called attention to a decree issued by the president of the French republic June 13 reducing the duty upon codfish imported into the island of Guadeloupe from $3.79 to $3.50 per 220 pounds, this reduction to be effective until May 21 next.

The bureau announcement says it appears that codfish is the basis of alimentation among the working classes of Guadeloupe, that prevailing prices have been very high and that the market is supplied almost exclusively by French firms and that the change is undoubtedly intended to permit American exporters to enter the market.

THE characteristics that have made Blatz Beers world-famed are an invariable feature of each brand. Whether your dealer offers you Blatz "Wiener," "Private Stock," "Export" or "Muenchener," you will be sure of a beer that's brewed for quality along either Bohemian or Bavarian lines by the Blatz Process.

Wiener

BLATZ-MILWAUKEE

And it's this very process that's the answer to the much talked of Blatz Character—that "peculiarly good taste." All of the fundamental and essential elements of honest brewing are only the "setting" on which is built Blatz Individuality. If you're a lover of draught beer—keg beer—you should cultivate the "Blatz Sign habit."

Bottled Blatz is available, or should be, in most first class places. Ask for Blatz Private Stock.

Neatly Answered.

A returned "contraband" was once entertaining an audience in Dedham, Mass., with an account of a furious skirmish between "the blue and the gray" on the banks of the Potomac. "But," said a severe critic of his highly colored narrative, "a man who had not been to the war himself, 'where were you when the battle was raging?' 'Oh, I was back among the baggage.' 'But how far were you from the bullets, and cannon-balls?' persisted the stay-at-home. 'Well,' was the reply, 'not so far as Dedham!'"

Modern Lovers' Cool.

The modern lover does not excite himself much, says the London World. One would like to impart a little more enthusiasm to the young man of the period. He sends jerky, slangy messages to his lady love, he does not greatly worry if he does not see her daily; he would not forego a golf match on her behalf if he could possibly avoid it. He never appears radiantly happy.
